S.B. No. 793—Hill et al.

An act relating to tobacco products.

Legislative Counsel's Digest of Assembly Amendments

SB 793, as it passed the Senate, prohibited a tobacco retailer, or any of the tobacco retailer's agents or employees, from selling, offering for sale, or possessing with the intent to sell or offer for sale, a flavored tobacco product or a tobacco product flavor enhancer, but specifically exempted the sale of flavored shisha tobacco products by a hookah tobacco retailer under specified conditions from those prohibitions.

The Assembly amendments additionally exempt loose leaf tobacco, premium cigars, and the sales of premium cigars sold in cigar lounges where products are purchased and consumed only on the premises from those prohibitions.

S.B. No. 872—Dodd et al.

An act relating to insurance.

Legislative Counsel's Digest of Assembly Amendments

SB 872, as it passed the Senate, required a residential property insurer to provide 6-month extensions to collect the full replacement cost of an insured property if an insured encounters delays in approval for, or reconstruction of, the insured property that are beyond the insured's control, as specified, and required coverage for loss of use relating to a state of emergency to be for a period of no less than 24 months, plus an extension, as specified, if an insured encounters delays in the reconstruction process, as specified. The Senate version extended a prohibition against limiting or denying payment of a building code upgrade cost or replacement cost for an already built home at a new location to include an already built structure at a new location, and prohibited an insurer from deducting the value of land at the new location if the insured decides to purchase an already built structure at a new location. The Senate version required additional living expense coverage to include all reasonable expenses incurred by the insured to maintain a comparable standard of living and, if the loss is related to a state of emergency, required a covered loss under additional living expense coverage to include claims under which the direct physical loss has been remediated, but the insured premises remains not habitable. The Senate version authorized an insured to collect the fair rental value of the dwelling in lieu of itemized expenses if an insured makes a claim for additional living expenses, and, for losses related to a declared state of emergency and for which an insured makes a claim on or after January 1, 2021, required the insurer to provide an advance payment for living expenses or fair rental value and an advance payment for contents.

The Assembly amendments, instead, on and after July 1, 2021, for a covered loss relating to a state of emergency, prohibit a policy that provides coverage for additional living expenses from limiting the policyholder's right to recovery if the insured home is rendered uninhabitable by a covered peril, but authorize an insurer to provide a reasonable alternative remedy that addresses the property condition that precludes reasonable habitation of the insured premises. The amendments require additional living expense coverage to be provided for at least 2 weeks, with additional 2-week extensions, in the event of a state of emergency and an order of civil authority restricting access to the home, as specified. The amendments require the measure of damages available to a policyholder to use to rebuild or replace the insured home at another location to be the amount that would have been recoverable

S.B. No. 1157—Bradford et al.

An act relating to tenancy.

Legislative Counsel's Digest of Assembly Amendments

SB 1157, as it passed the Senate, beginning July 1, 2021, and annually thereafter, required a landlord of an assisted housing development to offer tenants the option to elect in writing to have their rental payment information reported to at least one consumer reporting agency and authorized the landlord to charge a specified fee to provide that service.

The Assembly amendments additionally require the offer of rental payment information reporting by a landlord to include, among other things, a statement that all of the tenant's missed rental payments will be reported and would instructions on when and how the tenant may accept the offer. The Assembly amendments provide that failure to pay the reporting fee by a tenant is not a cause for termination of tenancy and prohibit the landlord from deducting the fee from the tenant's security deposit. The Assembly amendments exempt specified assisted housing developments that contain 15 or fewer dwelling units from the requirement to offer rental payment information reporting. The Assembly amendments repeal these provisions on July 1, 2025.

An act relating to cosmetics.

Legislative Counsel's Digest of Assembly Amendments

SB 312, as it passed the Senate, established a program to award competitive grants to certified veteran service dog providers to assist with service dog costs for veterans with post-traumatic stress disorder.

The Assembly amendments instead delete those provisions and, commencing January 1, 2022, require a manufacturer of a cosmetic product sold in the state to disclose the product's fragrance ingredients, flavor ingredients, and fragrance allergens, as specified, and require the Division of Environmental and Occupational Disease Control within the State Department of Public Health to post a list of those ingredients and their associated health hazards in an existing database of cosmetic product information.

S.B. No. 1189—McGuire et al.
An act relating to contractors.

Legislative Counsel's Digest of Assembly Amendments

SB 1189, as it passed the Senate, created a new classification of contracting business, to be called residential remodeling contracting, and authorized a residential remodeling contractor to take a prime contract or subcontract for specified trades or crafts, as prescribed. SB 1189, as it passed the Senate, prohibited a residential remodeling contractor from contracting to install, replace, substantially alter, or extend electrical, mechanical, or plumbing systems, or their component parts, or the mechanisms or devices that are part of those systems, except as specified.

The Assembly amendments, among other things, delete the authorization for a residential remodeling contractor to take a prime subcontract, as described above. The assembly amendments authorize the Contractors' State License Board to further define the electrical, mechanical, or plumbing systems, or their component parts, or the mechanisms or devices that are part of those systems, that are subject to the above-described restriction.
